THE BRITISH HOSPITAL

The British community of the River Plate will read with pleasure the subjoined report of this now-flourishing and useful Institution. For many a long year the funds of the Hospital were so low that, possibly, one of the most ungrateful posts was a seat on the Committee; but the reading of the report before us shows that, at last, the Hospital is on a sound and independent footing; its financial position is slowly improving, and its sphere of usefulness and charity daily extending. The subscription lists, which are attached to the report, are too much for our columns, but subscribers, on applying to the Secretary, can obtain the pamphlet. These lists show that the camp is becoming more generous and liberal in its support, and this is as it should be. The Hospital, in fact, is more for the people in the camp than for those in town, since parties in the city, when sick, have, for the most part, their own homes, whilst people taken sick in the camp and brought into town have no other place, save the Hospital, to go to; and it merits our special remark that, of the numerous applications we had to make during the year for poor, indigent, sickly countrymen, not a single case was refused, which justifies a suggestion to our wealthy friends in the camp that subscriptions to this Institution are the best of all charities, since they contribute towards the support of a home for the poor and sick, the most direct and unerring relief to those who require our charity. The following is the report:—

The Committee of Management for the year 1882, have the pleasure to submit to those interested in the British Hospital, the following

REPORT

At the last Annual General Meeting, held April 19, 1882, the following gentlemen were elected to fill the vacancies in the Committee, viz.:—

Messrs N Bouwer, E H Salisbury, Edward Casey, and Dr Coulbourne, while Messrs J H Getting, F Bridger, C A Miles, Thomas Duggan, and R J Neild were named "suplentes."

The following gentlemen retire now from the Committee by rotation;—Messrs Huxtable, Getting, and Rodger, and it will be necessary to elect three gentlemen to fill their places.

The election of three suplentes is also necessary.

The year has been remarkable for many changes in the Committee, owing to the absence in Europe of many of the members, and all the suplentes have been called upon to act. The Bazaar has taken place, a new Resident Medical Officer engaged, a head nurse has been contracted for in England, and, in fact, the general working of the Hospital has been most active. The Committee believe that at no previous period was the state of the Institution more satisfactory, or the working more harmonious than at the present.

Resident Medical Officer.—In the early part of January, Mr Carlyon gave notice that he did not wish to renew his engagement, which terminated on September 3, 1882, and it became the duty of the Committee to take such steps as might be necessary to provide for his successor. Advertisements were inserted in the local papers, and also in the English Medical journals, and it is satisfactory to know that no fewer than 67 applications were received. These were submitted to the consideration of the Honorary Medical Board, and out of the number, three were returned to the Committee as being the most suitable. The Committee made the most careful consideration of the merits of those gentlemen, and their choice finally fell on Dr E. Hanley of Liverpool, who assumed his duties on Oct. 22, 1882, under the usual three years' contract. There is every reason to believe that the choice of Dr Hanly will prove in every way advantageous to the Hospital.

Head Nurse.—It was decided that although from divers causes, easily explainable, the last experiment in bringing out trained nurses from Europe proved, to some extent, unsatisfactory, nevertheless a thoroughly qualified head nurse, to act as matron also, would be of great benefit and assistance to the Resident Medical Officer in his care of the patients, and, taking advantage of Dr Hanly being in England, he was encharged to make an agreement with Miss E Taylor, at a salary of £80, £90, £100 for a three year's contract with passage out and home. Miss Taylor is expected to leave Liverpool early in April.

Mr. Rowbotham, C. E., was kind enough to make a plan of the Hospital, and to report upon the Building, for which the Committee tender their thanks.

A legacy of $1,900 m/c. has been received from the executors of the late J. Barbieri.

Jose Vinca's deposit has been reduced from $50,000 to 30,000 in payment of his rent corresponding to the years 1878 and 1881, and will be further reduced by $10,000 for 1882 and 1883—remaining at $20,000 after this year.

Small-pox Patients.—At a Committee Meeting, held on 19th December, on the recommendation of the Honorary Medical Board and in compliance with the Municipal regulations, it was resolved that no more small-pox patients should be admitted to the Hospital.

The Bazaar, to which allusion was made in the last Annual Report, finally took place on the 26th September last and following days, and, thanks to the untiring efforts of the Bazaar Committee under the Chairmanship of Mr. J. Drysdale, the Sub-committees and ladies and gentlemen who gave their services, a brilliant result was obtained. As shewn in the Balance-sheet $429,072 was the nett product to the Hospital, and the sum now disposable for building purposes amounts after this addition to $640,000 m/c. Full particulars of the Bazaar and its accounts will be found in the annexed report.

Building new Hospital.—This subject has occupied much of the attention of the Committee, and a Sub-committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Casey, Miles and Neild, to take into consideration and thoroughly study the subject. The Sub-committee report was sent in on March 12, 1883, and discussed at a Special Meeting of the Committee, and the conclusions arrived at were:

1st. That it is the unanimous opinion of the Committee that the idea of building on the present site be abandoned.

2nd. That the sale of the present place and purchase of a site in a suitable locality and with easy communication, is the most desirable method of treating the question, but, failing that, and on the supposition that a properly guaranteed tenant can be found for the present place, then the rent paid by such tenant might be applied to the service of a loan from the Banco Hipotecario, the amount of which, added to the sum already available for building purposes, would buy the necessary site and build the new place.

3rd. That any idea of making good the communication with the Caballito land by means of a road, must be abandoned, as, after a visit of inspection on a fine day, the Sub-committee are forced to the conclusion that this property cannot be made accessible save at immense cost, and, therefore, the hope that it might serve as a site for the new Hospital cannot be entertained.

The reasons which have led the Committee to the first of these conclusions are manifold, and though not necessary that all should be set down here it may be mentioned that all the other similar institutions are being or have been moved to the outskirts of the town. The British Hospital, which is 15 squares distant from the Plaza Victoria; is now left alone, the next nearest Hospital being 26 squares distant. This is, of course, excepting the Italian Hospital, but they also are contemplating moving. A decree, therefore, similar to the one promulgated in 1870 and closing all the hospitals within a certain radius would affect us very much if we had just built a new place. The money disposable at present is not enough to do the whole work, and though plans have been prepared with a view to commencing operations upon such vacant ground as there is on the present site, and eventually demolishing the existing building, the design so made has to be kept subservient to the building actually existing and is not satisfactory. There are other reasons which it is not necessary to record in this Report, but which caused the Committee to unanimously agree to abandon the idea of building on the present site.

It is hoped that the Subscribers will approve the steps taken so far to deal with the question, and the Committee give notice that when their plan is thoroughly matured, (in a matter of such importance it would be a pity to proceed hastily) an extraordinary general meeting will be called to obtain the sanction of the trustees and subscribers to the plan they decide upon as the most suitable to be adopted.

The patients under treatment during the year were 840, 807 of whom were admitted, 33 having remained over from 1881; of these, 466 were in and 341 were out patients. Of the patients treated, 705 were cured, 47 relieved, 29 died and 26 remained in Hospital on 31st Dec., 1882. The rate of mortality has been 3·45 upon the total number of patients treated, and 6.22 per cent. if based on the number of in patients only.

The cost of management has been $323,322 against $374,641 in 1881, a saving of $51,319; and the income has been 446,500 against $386,066 in 1881, an increase of $60,436.

The following are the details:—

	1881.	1882.
Wages	89,409	87,796
Provisions	95,783	132,411
Fuel	17,741	22,596
Medical	40,423	37,731
Furniture	21,768	13,438
Drugs	28,652	28,579
Repairs	16,710	24,699
Insurance	4,385	5,031
Petty charges	10,451	17,360
	323,322	374,641
	1882	1881
Subscriptions	142,270
Add received in 1883 corresponding to 1882	44,971
	187,241
Fees	160,200	146,212
Dues	76,440	158,773
Benefits and Legacy	11,974	75,559
Interest	10,647	5,552
	446,502	386,066

This comparison is very satisfactory indeed, and the Committee have every hope that the Subscriptions in the coming year will exceed the past. Detailed Subscription Lists and Ledger Balances are appended.

The Committee deeply regret to have to record here the loss of a valued friend to the Hospital in the death of Dr. Geo. Fair, whose active services in its behalf are highly appreciated by the British community.

The Committee tender their sincere thanks for the following:

THE STARVING IRISH CHILDREN.

Mr Carroll writes to us:—

"The touching tribute, to the great virtue of charity, contained in the following, should not be suffered to pass unknown, I must therefore ask you to publish Professor Kyle's letter. The $687, contributed by the little children of Buenos Aires, towards imitigating the sufferings of their less fortunate fellow creatures, six thousand miles distant, speaks so eloquently for human nature, that I refrain from adding anything:—

(Copy)

1044 Calle Chile,
Buenos Aires, 15th April 1883

"I have much pleasure in handing to you the enclosed sum of $687 being the contents of the Poor Box at the Sunday School in connection with St. John's Anglican Church. The children are desirous that this, their Easter offering, be applied towards the relief of the poor starving littles ones in Ireland, on whose behalf you have made an appeal."

If the recording Angel has, too often to "sherd a tea" over our follies, will not occasional traits, such as the above, be credited to us with a smile of delight, and may not these $687 be reckoned as worth many thousands from other sources?

TRADE IN EGGS AND FOWL IN NEW YORK.

Ten years ago Paris consumed daily 1,000,000 of eggs, London 2,000,000, and New York 3,000,000; since then the consumption must have averagely increased with the population of these three cities, but as I am ignorant as to what in proportion, I cannot speak of it. The production in Paris is equal to the demand, but not so in London, since a steamer loaded with eggs leaves Normandy every second day for the latter market. There are three steamers engaged in this trade; and they are called "Gallinas."

New York searches in all directions for her supply of eggs, and they arrive, from every quarter of the United States, packed with picked straw in barrels made to held 70 dozen. Those barrels are made of hemlock pine, and their hoops of hickory walnut; so solidly are they manufactured that they last for an indefinite period. The New York manufactory turns out 3000 daily, and as there are several others, an idea can be formed of how great the demand is. Everything, such as peaches, apples, potatoes, eggs, fowl and other birds are packed in these barrels for the New York market. The birds are sold plucked, always at the same price, and give small profits.

Eggs on the contrary, vary in price, regulated by the supply in the market; however, they are never at a low price, as the demand always exceeds the supply. As much as a franc each is paid for them in winter.

The yellow eggs of the Asiatic breeds are preferred to those of the European, owing to their better flavour and largeness of yolk, their size does not vary their price as in Paris, for the simple reason that they are all the same. The preferable breeds are the yellow Cochinchinas and Brahmas, of which I have seen really magnificent specimens, imported direct from Shang; they are of a greyish, black color, with tail feathers of a gilded green. The owner, Mr Burlingham, 31 Gortland-street, N. York, paid 9 dollars for the three; they are the largest I have seen.

Near New York there is an extensive hen establishment, belonging to an Exchange speculator, who being nearly ruined, formed the idea of starting this establishment, which gives him after paying expenses from 5,000 to 6,000 dollars profit per year. He told me laughing, that when he had worked to make a fortune he had lost money, but now since he took it easy, the hens made it for him. Every morning the poultry carts come to buy the eggs and fowl. His house is situated in the centre of parks, where the poultry yards are; each park has a hen roost, constructed of wood, and roofed with tiles, having one side open, facing the south, where there are large heaps of fine sand, that the hens may clean themselves in. The roosts on which they sleep are horizontally placed and a little high; the nests are of wooden construction, lined with straw and placed along the side walls. Their food consists of bran, potatoes, maize, and oats. Each park, well lined with 'yerba' which is resown if it should fail, contains 50 hens and 5 cocks; there are 100 parks, which give a total of 5,500 fowl. Such is the cleanliness observed, that not the least bad smell is felt from any of the roosts, and it is owing to this fact that the fowl are in such a good condition. Cleanliness is the great remedy against the diseases of the fowl, especially against the 'peste,' which destroys in a few day's whole roosts badly managed. This fact is so true, that in Rio Janeiro a breeder, whose yards are very large, told me, that his fowl as long as they numbered a few hundred thrived well, but as soon as they increased to a 1000 the 'peste' set in. My conviction is that this epidemic is solely caused by the putrefaction of the refuse of the fowl; refuse that should be cleaned away at least twice a week, and in these tropical countries every day.

I am convinced that a fowl yard, founded on these bases in the suburbs of Buenos Aires, would render great services to the capital, besides making a fortune for the owner.

Dr. Sacc.

LONDON LETTER

(From our own Correspondent.)

STATE OF AFFAIRS.

This mail will not take you much in the way of news, but the acute reader will find the papers full to the brim of facts suggestive of the present political position in Europe, a position which, in many respects, resembles that in 1783. The Times is in one of its socialist fits, and reminds us that reflective people scorn the hollowness of Parliamentary debates, and the petty principles of our political parties. The writer in the Times, who is occasionally let loose on these subjects, is not very profound, but he has been reading Mr. Auberon Herbert's article in the Fortnightly, and it is just as well to give you a quotation or two from the Englishman's morning bible, that you may see where we are, and I may perhaps add, without offence, that you may look more kindly on the drift of your London Letters. The Times says—"The laissez faire doctrine is as dead as the worship of Osiris, but the practices which it justified have done a great deal to produce accumulations of wealth on one hand, and aggregations of wealth—producers on the other. The producers have discovered that after a period of high wages and general prosperity, laissez faire was leaving them every day more and more in the lurch, and now every day brings legislative schemes implicitly asserting the duty of the State to leave nobody alone so long as there is any good thing he desires but cannot reach without State aid. There is no lack of reality about the projects, which must be called Socialistic for want of another name. There is plenty of earnestness when a tangible boon to the great army of have-nots is in question. But we might as well be spared the second-reading speeches, the ingenious attempts to make the old principles cover the very thing they condemn, and the solemn invocation of justice, generosity, and all the other virtues. The things are done, not in obedience to any principle, not in the belief that they are demanded by justice, but simply from the feeling that they cannot be refused to a power which remodels all the standards of justice as it goes on. The progressive distribution of the material resources of the nation amongst the mass of the nation on principles of division which we cannot as yet formulate, is the work in which we are now engaged."

That is pretty plain speaking; and if I were asked what is the dodge of the Times in thus letting loose his "thinking man" and "abstract business" man, I should say it is this—just as Lord Lansdowne and those Conservatives who are capable of receiving an idea at all, have come to look on peasant proprietors as a less evil than the nationalisation of the land, the Times, as still representing capital and the business mind, says—"No; it is too late. Let us go in for the nationalisation scheme, and with long leases as occupying tenants either as individuals or as limited companies, let us take the places of the landed aristocracy who are now past saving." That would be a clever stroke of policy, only one feels inclined to say to the Times, as M. Clemenceau said the other day in La Justice to the Rothschild's—"beware."

Mr. Anderson's "Cruelty to Animals' Bill," subject to modification, to be introduced in one clause, has passed a second reading. Ostensibly, the Bill is levelled against the barbarities of "pigeon shooting," as practised by the upper ten and imitated by the million. The pigeons, not being the true blue rock pigeons, are made to rise from the trap by resorting to vile cruelties, such as violently plucking their feathers in the hinder parts and applying pepper to the wounds. A pigeon-shooting-gronud, strewn with tortured birds, blood and feathers, and ladies' gloves and fans, is acknowledged to be one of the horrid sights in the fashionable world. But Mr. Anderson's Bill, as at first drawn, seemed to be levelled at all sports, including stag-hunting, fox-hunting and pheasant-shooting. Indeed, he began to see himself, in the course of the debate, that it might also include salmon and trout-fishing. As he is an enthusiastic angler, he accordingly consented to make modifications in respect to the "sins he had no mind to." The humane aspect of the measure is somewhat overstrained. The political tendency is another blow, through "sport," at our decaying rural system, full of manly and healthy associations, but no longer suited to surrounding conditions.

On the authority of our sententious friend, the Observer, I said recently that the Government had not formally applied for the extradition of Sheridan That was a mistake. Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice has distinctly informed the House that the Government has applied. But in Sheridan's case, as in those of Walsh and Byrne, the evidence sent by the English Government to France and the United States does not appear to be yet conclusive. It is not a good sign that in the case of Byrne, at least, the Government is fortifying its original claim, based on the Phœnix Park murders, by evidence in connection with other crimes.

No. 1 is still a mystery, and no fresh revelations, implicating the Land League, have cropped up. In fact, at this moment, the Carey and Forster party are not in such high jinks as they were and the tendency is to turn round and sympathise with the much-abused Mr. Parnell. However, the telegrams this evening is pretty strong in favour of the extradition. We shall know more about it to-morrow night, when the French Procureur will have examined sufficient evidence supplied by the English Government.

Captain O'Shea has written to the papers a long defence of Mr. Parnell. Captain O'Shea's letter may silence the more foolish and vindictive amongst his enemies, but amongst sensible people the case remains as before. No one but political "arries" supposes Mr. Parnell to be implicated in direct outrage, but the real case is, how far was he obliged, as the leader of a national agitation, to shut his eyes to deeds done in the general cause.

I am afraid the only defence of Mr. Parnell is the bold one, that just as John Stewart Mill said of the poor Irish dispossessed by fraud and with cruelty, of their holdings, they had no recourse but the ultima ratio of civil war; so, boycotting, outrage, and, in the last extreme, political assassination if never to be excused, can be palliated as part of the ultima ratio of the oppressed. To the vulgar Englishman this is "shocking," and because it is shocking his watery eyes sees no further. It makes even an Englishman's blood boil to read of the horrors commited in Ireland by the English and Scotch land-grabbers since the passing of the Encumbered Estates Act. With more reason must the Irish leaders—who, until lately, be it remembered, have been treated with contempt—feel such exasperation, that whilst neither wishing nor avoiding outrages, they have not gone out of their way to denounce them; and possibly a part of the Land League funds has been permitted, it is to be hoped, in a round-about-way, to unite with the American money sent purposely to foment political crime.

Miss Florence Dixie writes to-day bitterly against the Land League and Mr. Parnell for doing nothing to assist Irish distress, whilst, as she openly states from facts and figures supplied to her, they have appropriated a balance of £152,000 not accounted for in the Land League accounts.

There is something in all this; but Englishmen have got over their scare, and are looking at the other side with more fairness. Meantime the Irish Secretary, Mr. Trevelyan—perhaps under the directions given by the personal superintendence of Mr. Gladstone—has just adopted Mr Dawson's motion for placing the borough franchise in Ireland on the same footing as the borough franchise in England. This, as the Tories say, will be to "swamp the loyal and orderly classes." So it will; but the "orderly classes" have made such a mess of it, that things cannot be worse in the hands of the disorderly; and the Government is wise to go on with its reforms, whilst industriously hanging assassins.

The Prince of Wales, you see, is created a Field Marshal in the German army. It is said that in view of what must be called a most perverse policy on the part of France, the English Government is drawing towards Germany. It is, however, too soon to speak of foreign policy in that solemn light. All I can say is that some alarmists are counting the French ironclads, and find France has a navy equal to that of this country; and it is stated in the same breath that the guns of our fleet—notably on board the Alexandra—were useless after the bombardment in Egypt

Four French ironclads have arrived off the coast of Madagascar. The natives are preparing for hostilities. This is, at least, an item we have to consider in viewing the existing state of affairs.

Next month we may hear of a French squadron at the mouth of the Congo, and perhaps in the Bay of Alexandria. The French are, perhaps, not serious, but they wish to draw off the attention of their people from home affairs, and at the same time teach Mr. Gladstone what he ought to have known, that two can play at his Egyptian game.

The Irish question of the moment is Mr. Biggar's breach of promise case—roars of laughter.

The English and Scotch question is the snow, which even in this city of the blest (London) is three inches deep; and for the first time this winter, and indeed for more than two years, we have felt the old-fashioned feeling of good British cold weather.

John Richard Green, the historian, is dead. He had been long sickly. He was only 45.

A SMITTEN LAND LEAGUER.

MR. BIGGAR IN TROUBLE.

Mr. Clarke, Q.C., in opening the case to the jury, said the plaintiff was a lady now 35 years of age, the daughter of a solicitor at Kilkenny, who was mayor of the city in 1851. He died in 1854, and did not leave his widow and children (two daughters) with means adequate for continuing to live in their usual style in Kilkenny, and so they went to Paris and resided there. They found in that city an agreeable circle of society among their fellow countrymen and others; and when, in 1880, the mother died, the two daughters continued to reside there. They had each £800, the interest of which contributed to their support, which was also aided by their receiving ladies to reside with them. In October, 1881, it became convenient to Mr. Biggar to reside for some time out of the jurisdiction of the tribunals of this country, and he went to live in Paris. On the evening of the 5th of November the young ladies were invited to spend the evening with a Madame Rouyer, and there they met Mr. P. Egan, who introduced Mr. Biggar, who was accompanied by Mr. Sheridan, whose name had since become so notorious. In the course of the evening Mr. Biggar appeared to be much interested in Miss Fanny Hyland, and paid her marked attentions. He insisted on escorting her to her house, and expressed his intention of soon seeing her again, and in a day or two he saw her again at the house of Madame Rouyer. On this occasion his attentions to her were more marked than was usual even on the occasion of so sudden a capture; and he assured her on the occasion of a song, "Ireland my darling," that she was his darling. He saw her again in a day or two, and spent a long evening in her company, and again paid her the same attention. He came again to ask her to make an appointment to take a walk with him, and told her he had something to say to her. The appointment was made, and on the 17th the walk was taken, and he told her that his head was turned; and he asked her to become his wife. At the same time, he said, there was an obstacle to their marriage. She pressed him to say what it was, and it is possible (said Mr. Clarke) that before the end of the case Mr. Biggar may give some information as to what the obstacle is. Miss Hyland pressed to know, and he said, "Curiosity lost Eve!" (A laugh). He gave no other explanation, but he at another time explained that it was an obstacle of a temporary character, and he even mentioned a time at which he hoped it would be removed. He offered her a diamond ring, but she declined to receive it, as he did not then seem clear as to his being able to remove the obstacle; but he afterwards induced her to accept a chain, which she wore. He kissed her, observing that it was a question with theologians whether a lady engaged to be married to a man might allow him to kiss her. She suggested that she should consult her director, as she did. He afterwards kissed her repeatedly. He was in the habit of calling her in the presence of others by familiar and endearing names, and from that time they continued upon the footing of persons engaged to be married, and she allowed endearments which she could not with any self-respect have allowed unless she had understood that they were engaged to be married. The attentions went on through December. Mr Biggar went to England, and while he was away wrote her letters addressed "My dear Fanny." (These were read but beyond the address contained nothing particular, and Mr Clarke observed that they were not exactly a lover's letters, and were rather of an elderly character.) About the 11th of January, Mr Biggar came back to Paris and resumed the same behaviour. His visits were as constant as before and his references to marriage were as frequent. On the 26th of January he said he must go to England a few days before Parliament opened, and he referred to the obstacle and hoped that it would be removed before long. He left the lady with professions of undiminished affection; but she heard next day that, in conversation that very evening, he had used expressions quite inconsistent with these professions. That conversation was communicated to Mr P Egan, who at once communicated with Miss Hyland, and, on hearing from her what had occurred, he at once wrote to Mr Biggar a letter complaining of his conduct. (It was objected to by Biggar's counsel, but Lord Coleridge said that any letter to him, with his answer, would be evidence.) To that letter Mr Biggar replied in these terms:—

"London,
"January 28, 1882.

"My dear Sir,

"Your favour of the 27th inst., to hand. I disagree with some of your facts, and most of your inferences. Marriage is, in my opinion, quite too serious a matter to be undertaken for the amusement of personal acquaintances.

"Josh. G Biggar

P. Egan Esq."

Gentlemen, said Mr Clarke, in conclusion, that observation of Mr Biggar's is perfectly true; and I hope that you will teach him by your verdict that courtship and promises of marriage are serious things and that they are far too serious to be indulged in as mere matters of amusement without being punished rather severely.

"NUMBER ONE."

A MONTREAL STORY OF A BRAVE IRISH SOLDIER OF FORTUNE.

Montreal, February 21st. Eighteen months ago an Irishman here, named Kirwan, who was captain of a company of Irishmen who served under General Chanzy in the Franco-German war, published a sketch here of another of his countrymen, who was colonel of a similar legion in France. In every particular as to place of birth, service in India and elsewhere, as well as to marriage to a rich American, the account corresponds with that of "Number One" of the "Invincibles," whose identity is now so eagerly canvassed everywhere. The only difference is as to name. Cable despatches give it McAdazas, but Captain Kirwan made it McAdam. The local historian met his former friend several years after the cessation of hostilities in Paris, where he was living in fine style with his wife. He also met him in Dubin later, but was not aware of the nature of his mission in the Irish capital. The accounts which have appeared in the newspapers lately are like photographs of the man described by Kirwan as "a soldier of fortune," and whose courage on fields of battle he extolled highly. There is nothing in the accounts showing he was allied with the Nationalists in Ireland. Kirwan before coming here, was secretary or assistant secretary to Parnell's Home-Rule Association in Dublin.

St. Louis, February 21st. General McAdaras, who is mentioned as being the mysterious "Number One" connected with the Phœnix Park murders, is well-known in St. Louis. He first came here in 1865 in connection with the Fenian movement, and returned again in 1873 or 74, when he married Mrs Crikard, née Doyle, a widow of means. He lived here about two years, and then went to Europe. Their home is still at St. Louis, but they spend most of their time in Great Britain and have a fine place at Bordeaux, France. They were here about two years ago, since when they have been in England, France and other European countries.

Michael A. Doyle, brother of the wife of General McAdaras, who is suspected of being "Number One" of the Irish Invincibles and concerned in the Phœnix Park murders, in an interview to-day denied generally and specifically that the General could have been connected with the events mentioned. He said that to his knowledge McAdaras has not been connected with any Irish affair since the Fenian movement and fiasco in 1865. He is in constant correspondence with the Gen., and if the latter had been engaged in any revolutionary or other political schemes he would know it. He says McAdaras is an invalid and almost constantly travelling with his wife and servants and that there is no secrecy whatever in his movements, and if the English authorities wish to find him they can obtain his address from the bank of England. Doyle says he met McAdaras in Dublin last August, where he and his family were stopping in the most open manner at the Shelbourne Hotel, the most prominent house in Dublin. In speaking of the Phœnix Park tragedy at the time, and it was the subject of general comment, Mc Adaras condemned the crime in strong terms, remarking that such things could do no good to Ireland. Doyle says he knows positively that McAdaras was in Egypt during the whole time covered by the conspiracy and he believed McAdaras to be too good and true a man and altogether too noble-minded to be in any way concerned in such an affair. Doyle has many letters from McAdaras and can give his whereabouts for several years past, and he is quite confident the authorities are on the wrong track.

A gentleman in this city who has known General McAdaras said yesterday to a World reporter. "I met Gen. McAdaras in January, 1881, at Athens, Greece. The Greek Government was then preparing for war against Turkey on account of the frontier difficulty, and the General came to Athens and offered his sword to King George and was accepted. The General was accompanied by his wife, and they occupied rooms at the Hotel d'Angleterre where I was also staying with my family. He is an exceedingly handsome man of about forty-eight years old and resembles General Bourbaki very much. He speaks French fluently and appeared to dispose of large amounts of money, which he received from the Ionian Bank. He was much annoyed when the Great Powers settled the Turco-Greek question, and left Athens in a very bad humour."

A well-known Irishman who says he knows General McAdaras says that the General lived in this city in 1872 on West Twenty-second street. The General, he said, was a large man, broad-faced, and wore a Louis Napoleon mustache. He had a military presence and was fond of talking of his experience in European wars.

Mr. Sweeney, brother of the proprietor of Sweeny's Hotel, which has been for years the resort of distinguished Irish-Americans, said last evening:—"I never heard of General McAdaras, and I thought I knew all the big Irish leaders for twenty-five years back. I am almost certain that if there is such a person as "Number One," McAdaras is an assumed name. If he had lived in New York and was prominent in the Irish cause I would have known him."

J. P. McDonnell, the Paterson (N.J.) labour agitator, yesterday received numerous inquiries concerning his identity with J. P. McDonald, who, according to despatches by cable, is supposed to be "Number One." He emphatically denies any connection with the Phœnix Park murderers.

EDITORS' TABLE

The principal news yesterday was from Dublin, per cable: Brady, the worst of the Irish "Invincibles," has been condemned to death for the murder of Lord F. Cavendish and Mr. Bourke. From Austria the news is that the Comte de Chambord is dangerously ill.

The French mail steamer Senegale arrived at Montevideo yesterday evening, but too late to land the mails, which will be here to-morrow morning. She leaves the Mount to-day for this port, at 4 p.m.

"Tantaene animis infernis irae?" The Nacional and Libertad are both off their heads about the Standard. Keep cool, colleagues! Compulsory politeness restrains our pen.

The Post Office did not deliver the newspapers by the Dalton on Sunday, which caused a few growls, although the dates (17th) are not any later. We have to thank the Captain and agents for sending us files.

The long-expected "caso sospechoso" turned up at last on Saturday, on board the La France, and on Sunday morning the Port doctors hurried on board, without even a cup of coffee, to find the patient as right as a trivet, like Mademoiselle Juliette, of cognac memory. Whether brandy was the disease in the present case, we cannot say, nor even does it much matter, since the alarm was false. It would be of interest to the public to know who are the "gobeurs" who manufacture "casos sospechosos" for the newshapers.

Any one who considers himself to be a leading, or even an esteemed, subscriber can have a present of a paper from Sydney, Los Angeles (Cal.), Quebec, or the Mauritius, by applying at our office to-day between 4 a.m. and midnight.

There was a mild blaze in Calle Artes on Saturday night, but it was soon put out by the Bomberos, troops, police and Capitania sailors. Some of the neighbours were a little nervous and took refuge with friends living near till the danger of the fire spreading was over.

There was not standing room in the Politeama on Saturday night to hear "Boccacio," which was very well performed, and the audience kept in perpetual fits of laughter.

There was an accident on the Ensenada Railway on Sunday night. Axle of a waggon broke; a dozen good waggons smashed, but nobody even scratched. The average of railway accidents is naturally increasing in this country as the traffic increases. The waggons smashed were all French, of the Western Railway, the wood and iron were equally bad and were broken to bits; but the English-made waggons of the Ensenada line, though very old, resisted famously; the iron was bent, but it would not break—faithful to the character of its native land. A traveller on the Ensenada line begs us to ask Mr. Shaw not to allow any more of these waggons of the Western Railway to be attached to passenger trains, otherwise there will be "fits" some fine day or night.

We received some generous donations from the camp yesterday for the Starving Children at home, and have no doubt as to more coming in speedily.

The Republica gives an amusing account of a free-fight the other night in a High Life drawing-room, where all the members of two large families were collected, discussing a business matter of great importance. The two 'señoras' began it, then the daughters sailed into the "mill;" then the sons on both sides, and finally the "governors" themselves, The din was so awful that the neighbours rushed in and stopped the scrimmage.

Mr Dewey, the enterprising newsagent, sent us yesterday a copy of the Scientific American, containing a cut of the great Hercules Dredge made in New York for the Panama Canal. It is a wonderful machine that would finish off the Riachuelo in no time. It deposits the mud on the banks, by means of a huge pipe which saves the bother of carrying it out to sea, although this might not answer with the "perilous stuff" to be dredged in the Riachuelo. However, we recommend the dredge to Mr. Huergo, C.E. Mr. Dewey told us he would send him a copy of the paper.

Our go-ahead colleague the Oeste of Mercedes is the first camp paper to go infor Havas telegrams, the same as the city papers. This shows decided enterprise, and probably Havas will secure a few more camp papers anxious to emulate the Oeste.

The United Telephone Company's first list of subscribers, which made its appearance yesterday, is a credit to the Company. It comprises nearly one thousand leading names in every branch of public service, of the professions, and of general business. The progress of the Company since its actual commencement here, less than a month since, has been remarkable. In that time it has replaced over three hundred of the discorded instruments of the old Pan Company with the new Bell telephones, besids supplying nearly one hundred new subscribers. From the 1st of April to date it has received fifty-three new subscribers. It has just received the first shipment of telephone cables ever sent to South America, fifty wires of which will go into a space of the diameter of one of the new medio pesos. These late improvements in electrical material possessed by the Union Telefonica will much facilitate communications and prove of great advantage to the public and to the Company. We have pieces of the new

ON 'CHANGE.

April 16th, 1883

Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas E	86½
National Bank Shares	105½

The week has opened with news from Paris about the Mortgage Bank business which put somewhat of a stir into Cedulas. It appears that there are more probabilities of doing the financial operation for the redemption of Series A in Paris than in London. We, however, know nothing of the affair beyond the current rumours on 'Change; certainly there was a fresh push in the Cedula market to-day since the sales reach close on half a million. Series A was largely dealt in, 86,800 sold opening at 100⅜ and closing at 100¼. Series E began cash at 86 and closed at 86½, sales 47,600; for end of month 275,000, beginning at 86⅛, rising to ⅜ and closing at 86½, and for May 65,000 sold at 86⅜. National Bank Shares rule apparently weak, but decidedly firm; the sales during business hours only amounted to 1,300, of which 500 for end of month, opening at 105½ and closing at 105⅝. To sell these shares is so easy that many have standing accounts to settle for the end of the month that may cost trouble enough. Spite of the dull state of the market and its continued debility, if the shares have to be bought to close up the month's account, we may look out for an alteration in prices.
Discount brokers report the money market rather easy; all the banks discounting with much facility, except one. Pagarés looked for at 7, and loans on stocks at 8 and 8.
Messrs. Russell & Anderson give a note of the saladero killing of the present faena, which will be read with great interest in the market; it will be seen that the whole faena is short 155,900 animals of what it was in 1882, which will always tell on our exchange and cattle market. Montevideo is the only part which shows ahead of the last faena, and this, as we noted before, is owing to the new system of baling jerked beef for the Rio market and forwarding it by steamer. The following is Messrs. Russell & Anderson's invaluable table up to 14th April, 1883:—

Buenos Aires:—

Costas & Becker	12,000 head.
Berisso	8,500
L Repetto	18,500
J B Repetto	16,500
S. Rocca & Co.	25,500
Podesta Bros.	18,000
P. Luro	38,000
Zarate	500
	137,500 head.

Costa Oriental:—

Cibils	13,000 head.
Rives	7,800
Guaviyu	38,300
Sta. Maria	31,500
Sacra	15,000
Casa Blanca	25,000
Fray Bentos	105,000
	233,600 head.

Entre Rios—

Mocoreta	4,800 head.
Naranjal	1,800
Concordia	12,800
Colon	9,000
Concepcion	200
Garbino	13,600
Laurencena	5,500
Sampayo	15,500
Berisso	7,000
Sta. Helena	8,800
	78,400 head.

The following is a comparative table of the faena up to date—

	1883	1882
Buenos Aires	137,500	165,000
Costa Oriental	233,600	292,200
Entre Rios	78,400	133,200
Montevideo	178,000	142,000
Rio Grande	150,000	200,000
Total	777,500	933,400

The sales at the ring were as follows:—
Cedulas—
For cash A 86,800 at 100⅜-½
For cash E 47,600 at 86-¼-½
For April 30th E 275,000 at 86½-⅝-¾-⅞
For May 31st E 65,000 at 86⅝
Sales, 474,400
National Bank Shares—
For April 17th 100 at 105½
For April 30th 500 at 105½-⅞
For May 31st 700 at 107-⅛-107
Sales, 1,300

Yesterday, according to the statements of real estate, brokers, there was an unusually large amount of property offered for auction sale. In every part of the city and suburbs even out as far as the Lomas de Zamora, the auctioneers' flags floated to the breeze, the fine quinta sites at Caballito offered by Mr. Quirno were we believe withdrawn, as one or two went on the ground at 3.30 p.m. and found the place deserted and no flags up. The large Lowry property on Calles Rivadavia and Victoria attracted a good crowd of bidders, but the land sold apparently at very cheap rates. The lots on Rivadavia sold as follows:—

Lot 1 Corner Loria, 9x20½, $3,750 % per vara front.
2 9x34, $3,300 % per vara front.
4 9x37.80, $2,700 % do
5 9x39.50, $2,350 % do
6 9x41.40, $3,000 % do
7 9x43.20, $3,450 % do
13 corner Liniers, 17x20, $4,000 % per vara front.

The lots on Victoria sold as follows:—
Lot 1 Corner Liniers, 7x23, $1650 % per vara front.
2 8x24, $1,000 % do
3 8x24, $1,000 % do
4 8x24, $1,000 % do
5 8.50x40, $1,350 % do
6 8x40, $1,250 % do
7 8x40, $1,250 % do
8 9x40, $1,350 % do
11 9x40, $1,400 % do
12 9x40, $1,400 % do
13 9x33.70, $1,300 % do
14 9x27, $1,300 % do
15 9x20.50, $1,450 % do
16 Corner Loria, 8.50x20.50, $2,400 currency per vara front.
38 9x22, in Calle San Carlos, $950 % per vara front.

Lots on Liniers sold as follows:—
Lot 39 Corner San Carlos, 14x12.30, $1,150 % per vara front.
41 8x20, $850 % do
42 8x32½, $1,300 % do

Mr. Arthur Eborall, of Las Flores, has sold 10,000 sheep at 25
1,000 cows, mestizos, "al corte" at $200
The new steamer of the Raggio line from Genoa entered Montevideo with 950 passengers on board; this is, perhaps, the best news of the day; they say that there are three other steamers on the way out with the same number of emigrants to each ship. Nothing must bother for this country than this splendid tide of emigration, and it is in view of all this that one cannot doubt the great future of this splendid country.
In the South Market to-day $95 offered for a prime lot of wool and refused. Good wools very firm and in active demand. Advices from Europe they say favorable.
The National Bank, we hear, sends the "Pono General" to Europe to-morrow. This, of course, means the commencement of exchange operations by the Bank.
Pagarés discounted to-day at 7 o/o, and loans on stocks easier than last week.
Freights the same, 25 francs and 10 o/o. Plenty of cargo offering, not many new steamers in.
The steamer Claris, of the Transports Maritimes, Barcelona, has arrived at Montevideo with 80 passengers and 2,000 pipes of wine.
We have received from the Statistical Department, of the Oriental Republic, its valuable Report for 1882, full of the most interesting data about that country.
At afterhours Cedulas ruled very hard, and some business done at 86¼ cash for to-morrow, and for end of month, and 86⅜ for end of May; market closed buyer at these rates. National Bank Shares also very firm, 300 sold at 106 for end of month, and for May 107½. It is well known that on the opening of Congress it will be proposed that the calls on the new shares can be paid up cash, but this affair is already discounted, and as the Government will oppose the measure, it is thought it will not pass.
Telegrams from London to-day state that the Cedula business could not be done there, but there are probabilities that it will be done in Paris.
The National Government, it seems, according to our active colleague El Diario, has arranged a fresh credit for £200,000 sterling through Messrs Mallmann & Co with some London houses; this is very good news, yet, strange, it has no effect on Exchange. The rate keeps fixed as the Polar Star at 49⅜, and some houses pretend 49½, but one of our banks continues to draw at 49⅜.
The auction, at Mr Bean's, was largely attended, and good prices paid.
Mr. Donald Campbell, of Paysandu, was welcomed on 'Change; he reports great rains up there, cattle in splendid condition, but very poor prices paid; 10 for novillos and 8 for cows. Don C. Guerrero and wife left town to-day for their fine estancia in the South.
Messrs. Castells & Co. distributed on 'Change circulars, announcing their starting the commission business. Mr. H. Lezica was the broker who effected the sale of the Fabian Gomez estancia, he was felicitated on the handsome commission he gained. Mr. Jas. Lowrie leaves to-night for Montevideo; his sale yesterday was a great success; amongst the great buyers of the lots were Messrs. Lacrosse, Armengaud, Rodriguez, Gaeta, Garay, Nelson and others.
The sales at afterhours were:—
National Bank Shares—
For April 30th 150 at 106 seller
For May 31st buyer at 107¼
Cedulas—
For April 30th E 15,000 at 86¼ buyer
Respecting the rumours so current last week of a difficulty with the British Vice-Consul in Paraguay, we have received the following:—
The facts are these, Dr Stewart sold or tried to sell to Alston y Cia some two or three years ago a yerba machine for their estancia, away up north; they did not buy and it was brought back and put in the Aduana, where it has been ever since. A. y Cia having liquidated some time back, of course, Diego has no more the power of attorney, the Aduana have se

Estos magnificos campos situados en la Provincia de Cordoba, sobre la linea divisoria de la Provincia de Buenos Aires, distan solamente 7 leguas del Fortin Gainza y 2 leguas de los campos de los señores Salas y Cernadas que acaban de vender 29 leguas cuadradas a razon de diez mil pesos fuertes la legua y que se destinan a la formacion de un gran Establecimiento Rural, a mas del de los señores arriba nombrados y otros muchos alli existentes ya.

La calidad de las pastos es inmejorable para la cria de toda clase de ganados; lo demuestran los rodeos y majadas alli existentes que han venido huyendo de la seca que sufrian todos los Partidos del Norte y Oeste de la Provincia de Buenos Aires.

Ademas no debe perderse de vista la importancia y el porvenir que tienen estas tierras que debe atravesar el gran ferro carril Trasandino.

Debemos llamar muy especialmente la atencion de los compradores y pobladores de areas pequeñas, sobre las ventajas que tienen estos campos, que una vez vendidos seran entregados inmediatamente a los compradores, pues han sido vendidos judicialmente y aprobadas las mensuras, para cuyo efecto los vendedores ponen a disposicion de los interesados todas las referencias, y los titulos que se garanten de la manera mas eficaz, pues no hay protestas de ningun genero a su respecto.

La venta se efectuara sin base alguna, por lotes de media legua con opcion hasta cuatro leguas, y el pago se hara al escriturarse una quinta parte y el resto a uno, dos, tres y cuatro años de plazo, con pagare hipotecario e intereses del 7 o/o (siete) anual.

NOMINA—De los nombres de los dueños de los Establecimientos que rodean estos campos. Salas y Cernadas, Gregorio Torres, Ataliva Roca, Gral. Racedo, Belizario Hueyo, Pedro E. Funes, Gordard (antes J. M Muna), Ambrosio Olmos, Alejandro Cernadas, Manuel Lynch y otros.

El establecimiento de campo arriba indicado compuesto de 2 leguas 333 mit. de otro de figura enteramente regular, pues tiene 8014 mts, por un costado y 7977 mts por otro

Linda con la sucession de D. Narciso Martinez de Hoz, Angel Beatti, Campbell, Carlos Salas, actualmente esta alambrado por dos costados y el Sr Dr Quirno Costa que ha arrendado el campo de Martinez de Hoz, va alambrar ese campo de manera que no quede mas que un costado por alambrarse.

Tiene una buena poblacion de 4 piezas techo fierro galvanizado, con dos potreros, quintas y monte, opuestos mas, algunos con potreros, y algun monte.

Ademas tiene buenas aguadas, entre ellas 1 legua muy resistente

El campo es superior tanto para ovejas como para vacas y actualmente hay alli haciendas de ambas especies.

Esta situado el campo en medio de Establecimientos muy valiosos de los Sres Carabassa, Martinez de Hoz (hoy cupados por el Dr Quirno Costa), Gebey, Grigg. Drysdale Lausen y muchos otros, pues es sabido que este Partido se ha poblado en estos ultimos tiempos de manera asombrosa, lo mismo que el Partido de Lincoln limitrofe con este.

Los precios pagados ultimamente en uno y otro partido no han bajado de 350 a 400,000 $ legua, asi que la base de $280,000 fijada para la venta no puede sino reputarse muy modica.

En cuanto a esta raza es hoy en Inglaterra de las mas preferidas tanto por su tamaño y gordura, como por la calidad de su carne, pero especialmente por ser la que menos atacada es de la sarna, condicion muy notable de animales lanares por nuestro clima.

Ademas es sabido que esta raza es inmejorable para nuestros campos de pastos fuertes, donde este animal procrea admirablemente y hoy sobre todo, que la cuestion de la exportacion de nuestras carnes puede decirse esta resuelta, conviene mucho a nuestros criadores tener esta especie por los tamaños y gorduras.

KILLS BUGS,
FLEAS,
MOTHS,
BEETLES,

THIS POWDER is quite HARMLESS to ANIMAL LIFE, but is unrivalled in destroying FLEAS, BUGS, COCKROACHES, BEETLES, MOTHS IN FURS, and every other species of insect. Sportsmen will find this invaluable for destroying fleas in their dogs, as also ladies for their pet dogs.

THIS ARTICLE has found so GREAT a SALE that it has tempted others to vend a so-called article in imitation. The PUBLIC are CAUTIONED that the tins of the genuine powder bear the autograph of THOMAS KEATING. Sold in tins only.
